Twelve Hundred Gallant Men Farade the City's Streets,

AN ATTRACTIVE SIGHT.

The District Knights of Pythias Cele brate the Twenty-first Anni-versary of Their Formation-The Visitors.

The twenty-first anniversary of the organization of the Knights of Pythias in the District of Columbia was celebrated in this city to-day by a general parade of the order, with a number of visiting lodges from Maryland, Virginia, New Jersey and strong northwest wind was rather sharp and biting. The cold winds, however, soon succumbed to Old Sol's penetrating rays, and before the appointed time for the procession to move the weather was as pleasant and warm as though spring had opened. A number of the visiting lodges arrived in the city yesterday, and most of the members took advantage of the fine day to visit the Government buildings with their wives or lady friends before the procession was formed, which was done precisely at 1 o'clock en First afreet southeast, the right reating on East Capitol street. There were three divisions. The first division consisted of men of the uniformed division, the second division of men in fatigue uniform and the third division of men in citizens dress.

The day opened prettily, though the strong northwest wind was rather sharp

The procession started at 2 o'clock, headed by Washington Division. No. 1, Uniformed Rank, with Pistorio's Band. The efficers of the Grand Lodgo rode in carriages. Fully 1,200 mon were in line. The most of the visiting organizations were accompanied by instrumental bands, in bright uniforms, which, together with the gay flags and banners, made the procession a very pretty one. The line of cession a very pretty one. The line of cession a very pretty one. The line of march was via East Capitol to Fifth street, to Pennsylvania avenue cast, to B street south, to First street west, to Pennsylvania avenue, up Pennsylvania avenue, passing the Executive Mansion, thence to Tairty-second street west, to Dunbarton avenue, to Thirtieth street, to M street, to Washington Circle; thence down K street to Vermont avenue; thence down K street to Vermont avenue; thence down M street to Seventh; down Seventh to G; thence to the National Rifles' Armory.

The uniforms were very attractive and neat, and the men that filled them were correspondingly handsome.

Mr. G. Geuthler acted as grand marshal in place of Mr. G. J. S. Foxwell, who was unable to serve in consequence of a broken arm, the result of a fall. The Elks' Hall, corner of Ninth and Pennsylvania avonue, had been secured and was filled by the lady friends of the order.

When the procession passed that corner it was greeted by the ladies in the Elks' Hall, who clapped their hands and waved their handkerntiefs.

The procession was reviewed by President Arthur as it passed the Executive Mansion.

A sumptuous collation was served at the cession a very pretty one. The line of much was via East Capitol to Fifth street,

A sumptuous collation was served at the Rifles' Armory, on (i street, at the conclusion of the parade. To-night a grand ball and supper is to be given the visiting Knights. Knights.

The visiting organizations who participated in the parade were five uniformed divisions from Baltimore, one division from Long Branch, N. J.: one division from Norfolk, Va.; a delegation from New Castle, Del.; a subordinate lodge from Baltimore, Grand Lodge officers, Supreme representatives and officers of the Supreme Lodge.

Pythian Notes.

Pythian Notes. Large numbers of the Knights visited the monument grounds and took a casual glance at that colossal shaft.

Most of the visiting lodges will remain in Washington until after the dedication Many of the Kuights and their friends were driven through the northwest portion of the city, and expressed great admiration of the elegant residences and build There seemed to be an extremely frater nal feeling on the partofour home Knights towards their visiting guests, and all that could possible be done in the way of mak-ing their brother Knights enjoy their visit

Chief Marshall Guethler, with Washington division No. 1, headed by Pistorio's Band, starting about 11 o'clock this morn-ing, visited the lodge-rooms of the local or ganizations and gave notice that the proces-sion would be formed at 1:30 o'clobk sharp. Long before the time appointed the or-ganizations began concentrating in the vi-cinity of the Capitol.

THE NEW ORLEANS EXPOSITION. Congressional Aid Probably Will be Given.

grant an additional loan of $500,000 to the New Orleans Exposition, was asked to-day by a representative of the United Press if the loan would be recommended to the full committee.
"I would not say that an absolute loan of $500,000 will be recommended," he replied, "hut I think there is Intle doubt that we will provide some means for relieving the management of the Exposition of the debt it is laboring under."

management of the axponition of the doos it is laboring under."

Director General Burke has evidently persuaded the committee that something must be done, and it now seems quite likely that Congress will provide for paying the present indebtedness of the Exposition

The many friends of Mr. M. M. Herr will be pained to learn of the death of his estimable young wife, which concred yesterday at 603 Fiftconth street. De-cased was the daughter of Mr. J. A. Ba-son of the firm of Benson, McNes & Co., contractors. She died from sparlet fever, having hearn side only thickness, hours, contractors. Size died from scarlet fever, having been sick only thirty-eax hours. Both Mr. and Mrs. Benson are now in San Francisco. Owing to the severe shock caused by ber daughter's death Mrs. Bonson will not be able to start for Washington until Saturday next. The funeral will take place tomorrow (20th inst. at 2 o'clock p. m, from 60t Fifteenth street, to St. Matthew's Church, thence to 5th Olivet Cemetery, where she will be temporarily placed in a vault.

Death of Mrs. M. M. Heer

A Public Reception at the White The President will hold a public reception at the Executive Mandou on Saturday evening, February 21, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

This will be the last reception of the Administration. Mrs. McElroy will not receive on Saturday afternoon. The President will to-morrow receive the Ancient and Honorable Artiflery of Boston.

JUSTICE HAGNER to-day granted Wm. H. Keller diverce from the bonds of matri-mony with Mary Keller, on the ground of babitual drunkenness. Mr. C. Maurice Smith was the solicitor for the petitioner.

On motion of Mr. Sherman the Senate dopted a resolution accepting a bust of ex-Senator La Fayette A. Foster, of Councettcut, and providing that it be placed on a suitable pedestal in the room of the Vice-President. Bills were passed removing the political disabilities of Wm. N. Gardne and A. B. Montgomery, of Georgia, and Alexander W. Starr, of Virginia.

The Senate also adopted a joint resolution

Alexander W. Starr, of Virginia.

The Senate also adopted a joint resolution appropriating $2,500 to defray the expenses of the Joint Congressional Committee on the Insugural ceremonies of March 4 next. Mr. Morgan gave notice that at 1 p an he would press for consideration the prading bill declaring the forfeiture of the Texas & Pacific land grant.

Mr. Morrill gave notice that he would press for consideration of the bill to retire the trade dollars. At 11st5 the unfinished business in the morning hour—the bill to quiet titles of settlers on the Des Moines River lands—was laid before the Socate, and Mr. Lapham continued his remarks in opposition to the measure.

At 12:15 o'clock a vote was taken on the motion of Mr. Lapham, looking to the reference of the question involved in the bill to the committee for adjudication, and it was lost—ayes, 10; naya, 39. The Senator then effered as a new section to the bill a proposition that the persons now holding the lands involved shall be reimbursed, should the lands be taken from them. Upon this amendment the Sanator spoke further. Before a vote was reached Mr. McPherson stated that to-morrow he would move to indefinitely postpone the bill. It was almost impossible for the bill to become a law during this session, oven should the Senate pass it. Mr. Lapham said he would cheerfully yield to the Senator to make that motion now. The offer was accepted and the motion was made, but was defeated by a vote of 22 ayes to 32 nays.

The question then recurred on the amendment of the gentleanus from New York looking to the reimbursement of the present helders of the lands involved, in the event of the reimbursement of the present helders of the lands and the rotten was made, but was defeated by a vote of 22 ayes to 32 nays.

before the Senate the next special order.

Mr. Van Wyck moved that the Senate proceed to consideration of the bill to declare the forfeiture of the Texas Pacific land grant. Pending a vote on the latter motion, Mr. Plumb made a statement, in which he advocated the fixing of a time upon which a vote shall be taken on the Des Moines River bill. He did not think that bill should absorb the morning hour any longer. The Senate then, at 1.95 p. m., took up the bill declaring the forfeiture of the Texas Pacific land grant.

Colonel Alexander Details His Differences With Mr. Ochiltree.

HE IS NOT SATISFIED.

But the Texas Member Will Be Private Citizen After March 4, and Satisfaction Can Then Be Had.

Colonel Robert Alexander, about whose onduct Representative Ochiltree complained on the floor of the House vester day afternoon, was met at the Capitol today by a reporter of THE CRITIC. The reporter asked him why he apologized to Mr.

"I see," was the reply, that Ochiltree says that I have apologized to him. It is not true. I have not apologized. I do not intend to apologize, and when Ochiltree says that I have done so or have any intensays that I have done so or have any intention in that direction he lies. I regret sincerely that I have been the means of giving Ochiltree some notoriety. But what I regret most is that my name should have been in any way connected with that of Ochiltree. That is awful hard on a mao."
"I am informed," continued Colonel Alexander, "that Ochiltree said privately on the floor, after that little affair of yesterday, that all he had against me was the fact that I had been instrumental in defeating a scheme by which he could have made some money. I am also told that he has said that he intends to apologize to me."

Member of the House my bands are tied.
I can do nothing here in the Capital; I can do nothing claewhere. But it is not long before the 4th of March. Ochiltree will then be a private citizen. I will have something to say to him then and I will say it. He may want to get away from me, but I can travel as fast arbie can, and I am perfectly willing to travel to secare satisfaction."

"What was the first cause of the traveller"

I am perfectly willing to travel to secare satisfaction."

"What was the first cause of the tropble?"

"It was the Eads job for the improvement of Galveston Harbor. Eads wanted to get his hooks in on the Treasury in the Galveston business as he did in the Mississippi jetties. I have been fighting that scheme single-handed. I fought it because I was a contractor, and thought that the work ought to be given to the highest bidder, not to a close corporation of lobbyists, rallroads and others without competition. That is the object of my work. Ochiltree will get no fee for his lobbying, and that is why he got mad. There has been a big Ends lobby here for the Galveston harbor business. Some of them have gone away, but others are still on hand. It was the biggest ateal proposed for years."

FIRE IN PHILADELPHIA. The Losses Estimated at Haif a

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19,-At 9:30 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the five story brick atructure, No. 125 Chestnut street, occupied by Szevenson & Co., Gita & Stratton, Richard A. Blythe, Garand & Co. all dealers in cotton and wool. Soon after the flames were discovered fire burst from the upper windows, and the front of the upper stories fell out with a crash. Many supposed that an explosion had taken place but it is not yet known whether there was any explosives in the building. Whou the wall fell a laborer, whose name is said to be John McKay, and who was engaged in be John McKay, and who was ongazed in removing a safe from an adjoining building, was instantly killed by falling brick; and several persons were also injured. EVANS VS. MILLS. The Commissioner Unwilling to Have the Charges Ignored. It is understood that Commissioner Internal Revenue Evans is not willing to have the charges preferred against him by William Howard Mills, a former clerk in his bureau, ignored by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The charges are of a very serious nature, and having become a portion of the records of the Department, he claims that some action should be taken to vindicate him.

To have such charges remain unanswered and unacted upon among the departmental records is regarded as permitting them to be revived to the injury of the Commissioner, who is understood to claim that they require summary action if true and no less summary action if entirely unfounded.

That the charges should be made and published throughout the country, and the accuser held to no accountability, does not meet Mr. Evans idea appears to be that if the charges are true, the accused, and if they are false, the accuser, should be removed. his bureau, ignored by the Secretary of the

WOLSELBY'S PLAN CHANGED. The English Troops to Retreat. LONDON, Feb. 19.—Dispatches received at the War Office this morning from Korti indicate that the whole plan of General

Wolseley's campaign has been changed and the change amounts to a general retreat of the advance columns of the English troops General Brackenbury's advance on Berber has been abandoned, and he will probably retire to Kerti as speedly as possible. Colonel Baller's column is desined for the same point, which, when the junction of the forces has been accomplished, will form the front of the British line. Bodles of troops will also be concentrated at Debbeh and Korosko. Lord Wolseley will probably return to Cairo in order to direct the dispatch of further re-enforcements to the front, and also that he may be in closer communication with the home authorities. Wolseley's campaign has been changed and

THE OREGON DYNAMITERS.

Particulars of the Recent Ontrage. PORTLAND, ORE, Feb. 19.—The land trouble which is supposed to be the reason for the blowing up of John H. Stenger's se by dynamite came about as follows: "The title of the Washington Colony, of which Stenger is president, to certain land, was disputed by a large number of settlers, who occupied the land after it had been taken up, but temporarily abandoned by the colony. The settlers met and demanded concessions from the colony, which were refused. They then soized one of the Stenger brothers and attempted to hold him as a hostage, and did, in fact, hold him tutil some sort of a compromise was efuntil some sort of a compromise was effected. There was no further trouble until night before last, when Stenger's empty house was blown up, undoubtedly as another means of bringing the colony to terms."

English Troops Depart for the Soudan.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The Coldstream Guards departed from Westminster to-day, en route to Scalkin, having been ordered out for service in Egypt. As the regiment marched through the streets, on its way to the place of embarkation, the men were enthusiantically chested, while the relatives and friends of many of the privates broke through the ranks and embraced and wept over them. Men and women sobbed bitterly at parting, and many a teaching scene between mother and son, husband and wife, or lover and sweatheart was noted. As the soldiers embarked the band played "Auid Lang Syno" and "Home, Sweet Home."
